

ASISTA Welcomes New Senior Staff Attorney

ASISTA Immigration Assistance is thrilled to welcome Rebecca Eissenova (she/her/ella) to the team. ASISTA members and friends will see Rebecca bringing her deep expertise to support our mission through training, technical assistance, practice advisories, and more.

Rebecca comes to ASISTA from Catholic Social Services of Fall River, Massachusetts. There, she served as Legal Director of the immigration law programs, which included a special unit dedicated to cases for survivors of crime, as well as general defensive, humanitarian, and family-based immigration units. Prior to that, Rebecca worked on survivor-based relief, general immigration, and removal defense at a private firm in Tucson, Arizona. Along the way, cases for survivors have always stayed with her the most, so it was a natural fit to join the ASISTA team and its community of devoted attorneys. In her free time, Rebecca likes to hike, paint, and spend time outdoors with her family and two rowdy dogs.

Welcome, Rebecca! We're so glad to have you on board.

With warm regards,
